B4P CODEFOUND

David Kudel
Chairman, Board of Directors (2016-2025)
B4P CODEFOUND

“Empowering people, transforming communities, and shaping the future together.”

Over the past decade, Business for Peace Community Development Foundation (B4P CODEFOUND) has grown from a vision into a movement. From within the walls of the University of Notre Dame in Indiana to Columbus, Ohio, then to Liberia, and finally to New York. What began with a small group of committed individuals has become a vibrant network of partners, volunteers, and communities working together across borders to build what others called the impossible.

We remain committed to our mission, which emphasizes the importance of agency, capacity, access, social justice, and financial freedom.

This report captures our journey, the milestones, the partnerships, and the lives transformed. It is a testament to what is possible when people come together with shared purpose and unwavering commitment to peace and development.

Executive Summary

"From a vision in Ohio to a movement across states and Liberia, ten years of building peace through community power."

Business for Peace Community Development Foundation (B4P CODEFOUND) was founded in 2015 in Ohio, USA, with a bold mission: to bridge the gap between diaspora resources and community needs in Liberia. Over the past decade, the organization has grown from a small volunteer-driven initiative into a recognized development partner with institutional partnerships, funded projects, and a growing presence across Liberia.

Key Milestones

2015: Founded in Ohio | 2019: First funded project in Liberia | 2021: LOCA community assessment | 2022: Strategic MOUs signed | 2023: Expansion into Liberia | 2025: Leadership development programs launched

Today, B4P CODEFOUND stands as a bridge between diaspora expertise and local community experience, knowledge, and needs, connecting partners, mobilizing resources, and empowering Liberian communities to lead their own development. This report documents a decade of steady growth, humility, shared responsibility, and leadership.

Her Excellency, Ellen Johnson Sirleaf, first female president of Africa, and Liberia.

In Loving Memory

Dr. Jeffrey Allen Myers, commonly called Jeff, became a member of the Board of Directors of B4P CODEFOUND in May 2016. Since then, he like many others invested his time, treasure and talents to help build and expand the Foundation's work. Throughout the years, and as the direction of the organization became clearer, Jeff's interest grew more and more toward helping to tackle the issues hindering the economic empowerment and development of women, girls and youth in general through programming. With a Strategic plan in place, discussions were held about the development of a robust fundraising proposal and the restructuring of the Board of Directors among others.

In the interim, Jeff got ill, was hospitalized, and unfortunately earned his wings on August 4, 2024. Jeff (Age 65) passed peacefully at the James Cancer Center Hospital in the United States of America at midday. We miss him, but his legacy remains.

The Next Decade:

Looking Ahead

B4P CODEFOUND aims to become a leading community development and incubation for collectives and cooperations serving as engines for poverty reduction and upward mobility across Liberia, the United States of America and diaspora communities expanding programs in agriculture, peacebuilding, business development services, education, health civic engagement and capacity building for women, youths and institutions. West Africa.

Starting with our strategic plan review and update, we will scale proven models operational and programming models and deepen our individual and institutional partnerships, secure multi-year funding, and build the next generation of community leaders from local to policy levels.
